

Glad to have you join us.

As champions for biodiversity, we're working to educate people about the beauty and diversity of our native plants and their essential role in healthy ecosystems.

We look forward to greeting you personally at our many programs and activities. In the meantime, we invite you to visit indiananativeplants.org to explore all that we do and to see which volunteer opportunities appeal to you.

Welcome to the
Indiana Native Plant Society.
A gift membership has been purchased in your name.

Indiana Native
Plant Society
Champions for Biodiversity